Dear President Waldemar Gonçalves Ortunho Junior,

BSA applauds the consistent dedication of ABES - Brazilian Association of Software Companies related to data privacy and we are honored to recommend and support the candidacy of its Executive President, Rodolfo Fücher, to join the National Data Protection Council of the Brazilian Data Protection Authority (ANPD), in chair reserved for entities representing the business sector.

ABES has consistently worked to disseminate the culture of privacy and data protection with its members and the market under the guidance of its extremely qualified of its Executive President Rodolfo Fücher. For this reason, we are honored to recommend and support the candidacy of Rodolfo Fücher to join the National Data Protection Council of the Brazilian Data Protection Authority (ANPD), in the position to be chaired by entities representing the business sector.

Rodolfo Fücher's appointment will diversify the collegiate body by adding the perspective and knowledge of a professional with more than 35 years of experience in technology, digital transformation, and innovation sector. He has occupied senior positions in national and multinational companies in Brazil and the United States.

As president of ABES, representing 2,000 ICT companies, Rodolfo plays a fundamental role in supporting and stimulating the development of startups and small companies. He understands the fundamental role of these companies in promoting the country's economic growth. Simply stated, Rodolfo's participation will add the vision of business and entrepreneurship to the rich perspectives of the other appointees.

We remain at your disposal should you require further clarification.

Sincerely,

  Antonio Eduardo Mendes Da Silva
